Shaman's LightSM

SHAMANIC INITIATION AND MENTORING FOR YOUR GENIUS

THE VALUE OF EMBODYING INDIGENOUS WISDOM FOR YOUR THRIVING

Who Benefits from Shaman's Light Training?

Being a modern shaman is not just about doing healings. Becoming a modern shaman means developing your consciousness. It means hunting for your real gift because you long to use it in ways that enhance your life and benefit others. It means reaching your full potential and living well at a collective level. And that means learning to embody and apply the original organizing principles of consciousness – this is the core of shamanic wisdom and skill!

To enter the training you don't need to know exactly what your gift or purpose is. You do need to believe there is something in you – an itch you can't scratch yet – that is waking up and demanding to be put to imaginative use in your life.

- Some people come to find out what that 'itch' is.
- Some come to find out about spontaneous visionary experiences they've had.
- Others come to explore their intuitive abilities, understand the power of their imagination, or to surface a deep longing.
- Still others come because they are completing their careers and know it is time to fulfill their true potential, and come into the power of the second half of their lives.

WHO BENEFITS?

Any mature adult who has an 'intuitive' talent, a desire to use it for something good, true, and beautiful, and the means and discipline to put new information to work in life.

Where do they come from?

Trainees come from all over North America and abroad.

What did they do before they became shamans?

Here is a partial list of the professional arenas trainees are in:

Writing, photography, business consulting, conflict resolution, filmmaking, architecture, biochemistry, biology, alternative healing (for humans and animals), western medicine, psychiatry, psychology, acupuncture and herbal medicine, chiropractic, entrepreneurship, venture capital, internet and computer technology, real estate, engineering, marketing, healthcare administration, design, theatre, environmental conservation, wilderness leadership training, adult education, children's education, painting and sculpture . . .

Many trainees remain in their chosen profession and simply learn how to do their work like a shaman – more powerfully, creatively, and effectively than can be done in ordinary states of linear awareness, but without the need for esoteric 'trances' or 'strange' practices!! [Mastery of full consciousness generates all the magic.]

Others use the training to grow themselves into the work they have always dreamed of doing.

All of them grow as people and realize a magnificent wholeness in their lives.

FIND OUT FOR YOURSELF AT THE NEXT PREVIEW DAY

When you come to a Preview Day, you get a taste of the training experience, and I'll tell you the basic truths about training in shamanic technologies and traditions:

- It takes the courage to imagine, the desire to act, the willingness to learn, the availability to be in relationship with life, and a great sense of humor. (If you are lacking in any of these, you'll be shown how to develop it.)
- You will be given the means to uncover the genius you really are, and you'll be asked to use the technologies to become that person.
- You will be gifted powerful indigenous principles of creativity and thriving and asked to use them to put your passion to work in the world.
- You will be offered membership in the mystery and asked to come fully awake and aware.

I tell each and every prospective initiate that when human passion is awakened and put to work in positive, life-affirming ways, then fulfillment, purpose, and benefit are given and received all around. This is what it is to be a modern shaman.
